LAYING DUST ON SPRINGS AVENUE

Residents of West End Section Place
More than a Ton of Preparation on Thoroughfare. Indications are that it will be Satisfactory.

Springs avenue has been "oiled,"
the work of placing on the preparation having been commenced Monday and completed today. From all appearances the experiment is going to be a success in every way.

The residents of the pretty west end street determined upon a preparation of granulated calcium chloride which sells under the name of Solvay.
It looks like the ordinary coarse salt
but as soon as placed on the road draws moisture and quickly dissolves, giving an appearance like machine oil.
It has little stickiness about it and the usual objection to oil on this account is avoided.

The preparation is put on with a shovel. It comes in drums of 375 pounds each and seven drums were required to cover the street from the railroad to the foot of Seminary Ridge with a short space of vacant lots where none was used. One and a half pounds are calculated to cover a square yard.

The preparation costs $13.00 a ton with freight of about $6.00. It is said that three applications will be required during the summer at intervals of two or two and a half months. If the first application is a success the others will be made as required, the cost to each property owner for the entire season being between $4.50 and $5.00.
This includes the cost of scraping the street which was paid for by Springs avenue residents. The borough furnished stones and did the work of filling the holes in the street.

It is said that residents of a number of other parts of town are watching with interest the operation on Springs avenue and that if the experiment there proves a success they will do the same. It is argued that where the properties do not have so much frontage and where there are no vacant lots
the cost per owner will be considerably less and the work will be well worth while.

At all events the west end residents are to be congratulated on their progressive spirit in trying to conquer the dust nuisance.

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI BANQUET

Miss Helen Cope Presented by Graduates of Local Schools with Handsome Silver Loving Cup.
Toasts at Annual Banquet.

In recognition of her faithful services as a teacher in the Gettysburg
High School Miss Helen Cope was on Tuesday evening presented with a handsome loving cup by the members of the High School Alumni Association who held their tenth annual banquet at the Eagle Hotel. The presentation was made by Mrs. Rufus Bushman and Miss Cope responded.

Preceding the banquet the annual meeting of the alumni was held and the following officers were elected for the coming year, president, Calvin Hartman; vice president, Ernest Ziegler;
secretary, Miss Grace Sachs;
treasurer, Charles Culp.

The banquet was very largely attended by High School graduates.
Calvin Hartman was toastmaster and the following toasts were on the program, "A Greeting," Calvin Gilbert;
"1911—its Aim," Ernest Ziegler;
"Three Tenses," D. Montfort Mel-
choir, read by Charles Culp as Mr.
Melchoir could not be present; "Just Ten Years," Miss Mary McAllister;
"Tis Good to Remember," Mrs.
Rufus Bushman; "Goals we Won,"
Miss Helen Cope; "Our Next Goal," Prof. W. A. Burgoon; "Lest we Forget," Clyde Bream.

The menu cards were held in covers which were pretty imitations of a state. The committee in charge were
C. C. Culp, J. M. Blocher, R. M. Currens.

VEHICLES COLLIDE

A collision between a buggy and a heavy Dayton wagon, on the new state road through Brushtown on Saturday evening, resulted in serious injuries to Miss Mattie Wentz of Hanover, who had her right arm dislocated at the wrist and the elbow sprained, with lacerations of her face and neck.

The occupants of the teams were Charles Shultz, Miss Wentz and Miss Louise Billman, of New Oxford, in the buggy, and a Mr. Kritchman and several ladies in a two horse Dayton. It was rather dark and neither driver observed the approach of the team coming in the opposite direction.

When the crash came the light buggy was completely wrecked, and all the occupants were thrown to the road, Miss Billman and Mr. Shultz escaping injury, though the clothing of the former was torn in a number of places, in an effort to extricate herself from the wrecked buggy. The horse escaped injury.

The other party escaped harm and there was no damage to the vehicle.

Mr. Kritchman, who lives nearby, rendered every assistance and gave Mr.
Shultz a buggy with which to return home, arriving there about midnight.

MEMORIAL DAY STARTS EARLY

Gettysburg Wakes Early and Prepares to Entertain its Thousands of Visitors. Hackmen and Refreshment People on the Ground.

Memorial Day dawned bright and fair in Gettysburg and it was not many minutes after sunrise when the first citizen started to prepare for the events of the day. By the time the wagons for the curb market started to roll in, the four corners of the square had begun to look like the refreshment section of a county fair and practically every available space for eating or souvenir stands was soon taken up.

The usual visitors came early.
Cheap Bill with his assortment, varying from razors to shoe strings, was stationed in front of Hotel Gettysburg and early in the morning started to exploit the merits of his wares. The "jewelry" stands were in evidence as usual and sandwich, lemonade and ice cream cone tables were everywhere to be seen.

Excursions brought in just as many as ever, the first arriving shortly after seven o'clock, others coming in during the morning until eleven were registered on both roads, nine of which came over the Western Maryland.

Hackmen were early on the ground, of course, and many of them had started on their first trip at half past seven. The early arrivals were eager to get to the battlefield before the crowd reached town and calculated on taking in the parade and cemetery exercises in the afternoon.

DEPLETING FORESTS

Great forest fires of recent years and the keen edge of the woodman's axe, have almost absolutely denuded thousands of acres of land on the South Mountains, and on property owned by the South Mountain Iron and Coal Company, so that at the present day, visitors to the spot say, one may stand at the base of the ranges and see the summit as easily as from a place of elevation, and the surface, where once grew millions of feet of the finest kind of lumber, is now covered with low shrubby. Although the woodman with his axe has been working on these hills for many years, yet it is believed by many of the south side residents that forest fires of the past few years did even more to clip the mountains of their foliage.

Thousands of trees have been cut for lumber and shipped to eastern markets, while the refuse timber is cut into certain lengths and shipped to Steelton and used in furnaces by the Pennsylvania Steel Company. In this manner a great quantity of waste timber is utilized. The acreage burned over and devastated by the great mountain fires number into the thousands, and in some places several fires burned over the same, completely killing all trees and shrubbery, and doing thousands of dollars damage.

It is believed that a movement will soon be instituted to reforest this vast section, and if trees are again planted there, big fire lines will dot the mountains in all localities. Already a large number of fire lines have been cut through the forests in the South Mountains, where the greatest fires have occurred, and it is now believed that a repetition of the terrible fire of two years ago will hardly be duplicated.

CHARGE AGAINST KAPPES

Harry Leech on Monday evening swore out a warrant for the arrest of Herman Kappes on a charge of assault and battery, the information being laid before Justice Harnish. Mr. Leech alleges that he was standing in the Hotel Washington waiting for his brother when Kappes, suddenly and without any provocation, struck him over the head knocking him down and causing his teeth to penetrate the tongue which bled considerably. Later in the evening he laid information before Justice Harnish and says that he means to push the prosecution.

TWO NEW DRUGGISTS

Dr. Stewart Kleckner, of Millinburg, came to Gettysburg Monday to accept a position at the Landau drug store. Dr. W. J. Blair, of Chambersburg, has accepted a position with L. M. Buehler and succeeds Joseph Donohue who has gone to Philadelphia. Dr. Kleckner and Dr. Blair were classmates at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, of which institution they are graduates. Both are registered pharmacists.

Mrs. C. H. Wenschhof, of Freedom township, killed a large snake on Harper's Hill one day recently. The snake, of the black variety, was occupying its attention with a dog when Mrs.
Wenschhof went up quietly from behind and struck it a telling blow with a big fence rail, killing the reptile almost instantly. It measured six feet.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE LUMBER TRUST

To Investigate Business With View to Prosecutions.

Chicago, May 30.—A special federal grand jury will be empaneled before United States District Judge Kenesaw M. Landis on June 5 to investigate "certain phases of the lumber business," with a view to prosecuting under the Sherman anti-trust law.

A petition was presented to Judge Landis by Assistant United States Attorney Elwood Godman, Clark McKencher, a special assistant to the attorney general of the United States, also was present when the petition was presented.

No information as to the scope of the investigation could be learned from the federal district attorney's office, beyond the bare intimation that a definite plan of procedure had been mapped out and would be followed, and that the rest would be left to the grand jury.

A special grand jury was asked because of the activity of the present one in the oleomargarine cases.

"CANCER CURE" WINS FIGHT

Supreme Court Gives Important Construction of the Pure Food Law.

Washington, May 30.—Drugs may be labeled as cures for man and yet be absolutely ineffective for that purpose, without violating the national pure food and drug act, according to a decision by a majority of the supreme court of the United States in the case of Dr. O. A. Johnson.

Johnson was indicted in the federal courts of Missouri in 1909 on a charge of having violated the pure food and drug act of 1906. It was alleged that Johnson, doing business under the name of a company, shipped from one state to another certain articles designated as "Cancerine tablets," etc., the labels upon which were false and misleading in that they implied that the articles would cure and were effective in bringing about the cure of cancer. It was alleged in the indictment that this statement was untrue and the articles were worthless and ineffective for such purposes.

The indictment was quashed on the ground that the pure food and drug act was restricted to prevention of misstatements about the ingredients of drugs, and did not include the prevention of misstatements about the curative properties of medicines. The government appealed to the supreme court.

Sir William Gilbert Is Dead.
London, May 30.—Sir William Gilbert, who collaborated with the late Sir Arthur Sullivan, the composer, in producing "Pinafore," "Pirates of Penzance" and "The Mikado" and many other comic operas, died suddenly. He was bathing at Harrow, when he was seized with heart failure and died in a few minutes.

T. R. SOUGHT BY STEEL PROBERS

Wants Him to Explain Tenn. Coal and Iron Deal.

GATES CONTRADICTS HIM

Former President Said He Sanctioned the Absorption by Steel Trust to Relieve Distress of Big New York Bank.

Washington, May 30.—Former President Roosevelt is desired as a witness before the special "steel trust" investigating committee of the house. A request has been sent to Colonel Roosevelt to appear and tell what he knows about the taking over of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company by the United States Steel corporation.

It has been declared repeatedly that the merger was personally sanctioned by Colonel Roosevelt, as president, at the time of the 1907 financial panic and that he did so to aid in relieving the distress of a big New York bank, whose closing threatened to cause widespread trouble.

John W. Gates, who was before the committee Saturday, contradicted practically all the statements in Colonel Roosevelt's letter to Attorney General Bonaparte, in which it was set forth that E. H. Gary and H. C. Frick had volunteered to avert a financial disaster by taking over the Tennessee Coal and Iron company. Colonel Roosevelt will be asked to harmonize the apparent discrepancies.

Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation, will furnish the second chapter of the Stanley committee's history of the great "steel trust." He has been subpoenaed to appear Thursday morning.

Representative Stanley is more than pleased as the result of the first attempt of his committee to get at the facts behind the combination of capital. What John W. Gates said under oath Saturday—the movements that led to the elimination of Mr. Carnegie and the pooling of interests in one holding company of $1,700,000,000 capital—has centered the eyes of every body in Washington on the hearings.

Mr. Stanley has made the investigation of the steel trust his hobby for many years. There was one thing that he and his league on the committee were especially eager to learn, and that was the exact reason for the sudden merging of the competing steel concerns in 1900 and 1901. Mr. Gates explained it.

The committee will continue its meetings in Washington until the end of the present session of congress. It then intends to go to New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago and take testimony. There will probably be no man of prominence in steel affairs or in any great banking institution or other line of industry that is in any way connected with steel that will not eventually be examined.

WIRELESS CROOKS GUILTY

Defendants May Be Imprisoned Six Years and Fined $25,000 Each.

New York, May 30.—Christopher Columbus Wilson, president of the United Wireless Telegraph company, and his four associates were found guilty by a jury on four counts charging misuse of the United States mails in soliciting stock subscriptions.

The defendants, who are said to have made about $3,000,000 in three years, may be imprisoned for not more than six and one-half years and fined $25,000 each.

The first three counts charge misuse of the mails in a scheme to defraud. Each count carries a maximum sentence of eighteen months' imprisonment and $5,000 fine. The fourth count, that of conspiracy, provides a maximum penalty of two years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine. But at the court's discretion either fine or imprisonment may be inflicted.

Roosevelt Has "Nothing to Say."

New York, May 30.—Former President Roosevelt was asked at his home in Oyster Bay whether he would appear as a witness before the special house committee investigating the steel trust. He declined to discuss the subject, sending word that he "had nothing to say."

Sibley Probe Is Dropped.

Franklin, Pa., May 30.—The audit of the primary campaign expenses of ex-Congressman J. C. Sibley has been dropped. In a petition filed before Judge Crisswell the original petitioners said they would drop proceedings owing to the poor health of Mr. Sibley.

Drowned in Two Feet of Water.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 30.—George A. Johnson, fifty years old, a prominent member of the Allegheny county bar, was found dead in two feet of water at Olympia park. He is believed to have fallen into the water following an attack of heat prostration.

Canadian Locomotive Works Sold.

Kington, Ont., May 30.—The Kingston Locomotive works, owned by William Harty, M. P., were sold to a syndicate composed of Toronto and English capitalists for $3,000,000. The capacity of the works at present is two locomotives a week.

Certain Results

Many a Gettysburg Citizen Knows How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Gettysburg. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical doubter. Read the following statement:

Mrs. Mary Ohler, 85 Hanover St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I was troubled by weak and disordered kidneys for over a year. My back ached constantly and pains extended from my loins into my head. I had chills and dizzy spells and was bothered by the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended that I finally procured a box at the People's Drug Store and commenced their use. A few doses brought relief and after continuing the use of this remedy for a short time, all symptoms of my trouble disappeared. Doan's Kidney Pills deserve my endorsement." (Statement given November, 1907.)

A WILLING CORROBORATION.
On January 3, 1910, when Mrs. Ohler was interviewed, she said: "I heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills again and confirm all I have previously said about them. This remedy should have a permanent place in every household."

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVE FAILS

In regard to skin diseases medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid. WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates to the disease germs and destroys it, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief.

VALID TO RESTRICT HOURS OF SERVICE

Supreme Court Upholds Sixteen-Hour Law.

Washington, May 30.—The "hours of service law for railroad employees," passed by congress in 1907, was upheld as constitutional by the supreme court of the United States.

This decision was announced by Justice Hughes in the test suit that was brought by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company.

The decision of the court was unanimous. Justice Hughes said that the words of the statute were plain that only persons engaged in interstate commerce and by interstate carriers were affected by the statute. In this particular, he said, it differed from the employers' liability law of 1906.

Because the interstate employees sometimes engage in intrastate business not to defeat the law, he said.

As to the authority of the interstate commerce commission to issue the order putting the law into effect, the justice said that the entire question of authority had been settled by legislation in 1910.

The act upheld by the supreme court makes it unlawful for any common carrier engaged in interstate commerce to permit any trainman, subject to the act, to remain on duty for a longer period than sixteen consecutive hours, or any telegraph operator more than nine or thirteen hours, according to the time the telegraph station was opened for business. The act also specified periods of rest for the employees.

GRAY HAIR MAKES YOU LOOK OLD

A Simple Remedy Brings Back the Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

How often one hears the expression, "She is gray and beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually denotes age and is always associated with age. You never hear one referred to as having gray hair and looking young.

The hair is generally the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can't retain a youthful appearance if you allow your hair to grow gray. Many persons of middle age jeopardize their future simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest. If your hair has become faded or gray, try Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation which a chemist by the name of Wyeth devised a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical, and will banish the gray hairs in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

It is a pleasant dressing for the hair, and after using it a few days itching and redness of the scalp entirely disappear. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is sold by all druggists.

GRANGERS' DINNER CLUB.

Farmers Discuss Crops at Noon Hour
In Their Grange Hall.

The Union League grange of Kingman, Ore., is considering the organization of a new feature of grange work, or work and recreation combined. As a dinner club has in its very title something attractive and suggestive of sociability, it is proposed that farmers' families who come to town on Saturdays to buy groceries or market farm products bring their loaded lunch pails and at noon repair to the grange hall, where stoves, tables and dishes may be provided and a committee be in readiness to help serve the lunch in a homelike manner. When all are seated the master of the grange or other presiding officer would introduce the subject or subjects for the day's discussion. Thus eating and talking together, a pleasant and profitable hour or two would be passed. If any chose to pay 15 cents for the lunch rather than bring one, they could do so. In some places this noon day plan would certainly be feasible, while in others we should doubt its success. But it is worth a trial.

TOBACCO TRUST MUST DISSOLVE

Supreme Court Gives Government Great Victory.

AN ILLEGAL COMBINATION

American and British-American Tobacco Companies are a monopoly and are given six months to reorganize. Evasion strictly guarded against.

Washington, May 30.—The American Tobacco company and its accessories and subordinate corporations and companies, including the English corporation, the British-American Tobacco company, were held by the supreme court of the United States to be co-partners in a combination illegal under the Sherman anti-trust act.

The court sent the case back to the lower court with directions to hear further the parties so as to ascertain whether a new condition could not be re-created in harmony with the law. At the same time it specifically guards against any evasion of the decree.

Justice Harlan concurred in part with the court's opinion and dissented in part.

The decision was handed down by the chief justice, after a day devoted to clearing the calendars for adjournment till next fall.

It comes as the end of a long fight, second only perhaps to that of the government against the Standard Oil, the decision in which was handed down two weeks ago.

The court decreed: "First—That the combination in and of itself, as well as each and all of its elements composing it, whether corporate or individual, whether considered collectively or separately, be decreed to be in restraint of trade and an attempt to monopolize and a monopolization within the first and second sections of the anti-trust law.

"Second—That the court below, in order to give effective force to our decree in this regard, be directed to hear the parties, by evidence or otherwise, as it may be deemed proper for the purpose of ascertaining and determining upon some plan or method of dissolving the combination and of recreating, out of the elements now composing it, a new condition which shall be honestly in harmony with and not repugnant to the law.

"Third—That for the accomplishment of these purposes, taking into view the difficulty of the situation, a period of six months is allowed from the receipt of our mandate, with leaves, however, in the event, in the judgment of the court below, the necessities of the situation require to extend such period to a further time not to exceed sixty days.

"Fourth—That in the event, before the expiration of the period thus fixed, a condition of disintegration in harmony with the law is not brought about, either as the consequence of the action of the court in determining an issue on the subject or in accepting a plan agreed upon, it shall be the duty of the court, either by way of an injunction restraining the movement of the products of the combination in the channels of interstate or foreign commerce, or by the appointment of a receiver, to give effect to the requirements of the statute."

Pending the bringing about of the result, directed by the court, each and all of the defendants, individual as well as corporations, are to be restrained from doing any act which might further extend or enlarge the power of the combination, by any means or device whatsoever.

JEALOUS MAN'S CRIME

Hangs Self and Daughter, But Child's Life is Saved.

Decatur, Ind., May 30.—Harvey Parker went to the stable with his four-year-old daughter and, staying so long, Mrs. Parker went to look for them.

She found her husband and child hanging from rafters by their necks. The mother cut down the body of the child and resuscitated it by hard work. When she got to her husband life was extinct. The suicide and attempt on the child's life were caused by a sudden fit of jealousy.

Mrs. Emerson Wins Divorce.

Baltimore, May 30.—A decree of divorce was signed for Mrs. Isaac E. Emerson in her action against Captain Emerson, the millionaire drug manufacturer. Captain Emerson first instituted action against his wife, making statutory charges, and this was followed by a cross bill. A second bill was later filed by Mrs. Emerson asking for a divorce on the ground of desertion, and the decree was signed on this action. Mrs. Emerson was awarded alimony to the amount of $28,800 annually and the family home in Eutaw Place.

Murdered Boy Found in Thicket. Suffolk, Va., May 30.—With his face scarred and bruised, his neck broken and finger marks on his throat, Charles Brinkley, the fifteen-year-old son of J. W. Brinkley, a merchant and farmer at Nurney Station, six miles from Suffolk, was found dead in a thicket near his home. The boy was last seen alive Saturday night. The body had been dragged into the woods about twenty yards from the county road. John Garner, colored, has been arrested as a suspect.

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW.

English Author Bitterly Attacks Christian Religion.

RELIGION OUT OF FASHION?

George Bernard Shaw Says "Christ Was a Failure."

London, May 30.—In addressing a gathering of undergraduates at Cambridge, George Bernard Shaw said: "The man who says that Christ was the highest possible being isn't worth working with. Christ was a failure."

Mr. Shaw's subject was "The Future of Religion."

Among the other things he said on the matter besides that already quoted was:

"The mention of God has gone out of fashion. You never hear about God now in parliament and only occasionally in the law courts. The people are governed by a system of idolatry. The clergyman, the judges and the kings are idols who generally have to be given enough money to dress better than other people. The king cannot impose upon me. I know that the king is merely a man, but scarcely any one else in England seems to know it. When Darwin came along with the theory of natural selection people jumped at it and kicked God out of the window."

CHARGES GRAFT IN STATE DEPT.

U. S. Paid $2450 For Portrait Costing $850.

Washington, May 30.—As the result of a hearing before the house committee on expenditures in the state department, Colonel William H. Michael, formerly chief clerk of the state department and now United States general consul at Calcutta, has been asked by the secretary of state to explain an apparently peculiar monetary transaction in which he was concerned during his service at the department.

Albert Rosenthal, a Philadelphia portrait painter, started the committee with the charge that he was paid only $850 for a portrait of Associate Justice William R. Day, former secretary of state, while the department records contain a voucher and receipt indicating that he was paid $2450.

At the same hearing Thomas Morrison, disbursing officer of the state department, testified that he paid the amount indicated by the voucher—$2450—to Colonel Michael. Rosenthal reiterated that he received only $850, which, he said, was the price for which he had agreed with Mr. Day to paint the portrait. He learned of the voucher, which he says, he signed in blank, being made out for practically three times the sum he charged and received, two years after the delivery of the portrait, when Charles Denby, who succeeded Colonel Michael as chief clerk, asked Rosenthal why he had charged so much for the Day portrait. Rosenthal replied that he didn't consider $850 too much, whereupon Mr. Denby immediately sent for the voucher and a mutual explanation resulted.

MEET CUT IN STEEL PRICES

Trust and Independents Issue New Schedule.

SEVEN PRODUCTS REDUCED

Price of Wire and Rails Will Probably Remain as They Are—New List Brings Prices Lower Than They Have Been For Two Years.

New York, May 30.—Officers of the United States Steel corporation and of the larger independents, meeting at the Metropolitan club, resolved that the present prices of steel products in respect to seven items are too high and ought to be reduced. What was taken to be a fair reduction was proposed, and the steel manufacturers acquiesced.

Judge Gary, chairman of the board of the steel corporation, said afterward that the new prices will doubtless be generally followed. Officers of the Republic Iron and Steel company, the John W. Gates enterprise, which precipitated the cut in prices, weren't asked to attend.

The prices on the seven steel products named in the new list bring the average of steel prices to a lower level than they have held since 1909, the last time that there has been discussion among steel producers. In some instances the prices of individual articles are lower than they were in 1909. Steel billets, for instance, are lower than they have been at any time since 1904. The cut on steel bars was the same as that made by the Republic last Wednesday and followed sporadically by other steel producers since then. Neither steel wire, which is the biggest single product in the trade, speaking in point of tonnage, nor rails were touched. There is little likelihood that either of these will be affected.

One of the independents said the most important item upon which the price was cut was that of plates and structural. These compose about 8 per cent of the annual output of the country, and the price was lowered 5 cents on the hundred weight, making the new rate $13.35 a hundred pounds. Sheets of various grades and sheet bars were cut 2 or 3 cents a pound. Altogether the new prices are lower than they have been for two years.

The commodities affected, with the new prices, are as follows:

Steel bars (15 cents per 100 pounds off), $12.50 base.

Plates and structural (5 cents per 100 pounds off), $13.50 off.

Black sheets (20 cents per 100 pounds off), 2 cents per pound for No. 28 gauge.

Galvanized sheets, 3 cents per pound for No. 28 gauge.

Blue annealer sheets (10 cents per 100 pounds off), $1.50 for No. 10 gauge.

Steel billets four inches square and larger, $21 per gross ton.

Sheet bars, $22 per gross ton.

PACT WITH GERMANY

Indications of Willingness to Consider Peace Treaty.

Washington, May 30.—Secretary of State Knox opened negotiations with Germany for a general arbitration treaty similar to the one now being negotiated between this government and England and this government and France.

The German ambassador, Count Bernstorff, called at the state department and formally asked for a copy of the tentative draft of the convention which has been submitted to England and France as the basis of negotiations.

This action by the German ambassador amounts to an expression of willingness on the Kaiser's part to open negotiations on this proposition. The action of the German government comes as a surprise, as it was generally supposed that it was opposed to an arbitration treaty of this character.

KAISER'S SON BADLY HURT

Prince Joachim Believed to Have His Foot Broken in Maneuvers.

Berlin, May 30.—Prince Joachim, youngest son of Emperor William, was seriously injured during sham battle maneuvers of the Second Guard Brigade. The prince's foot is thought to have been broken.

The maneuvers were being conducted under the personal command of the emperor.

Prince Joachim, who is twenty-one years old, recently was made an officer of the Guard Brigade.

Home Burned While Decorating Grave

Clayton, N. J., May 30.—The home of Aaron Knight, a farmer living midway between Richwood and Aura, was destroyed by fire. Mr. and Mrs. Knight were at the cemetery, putting the grave of her father, who was a soldier, in order for Memorial Day. Two small boys were left at home and were playing with fire, causing the conflagration. There was no insurance, the policy having expired last week.

Dropped Dead at Organ.

Blairstown, Pa., May 30.—Miss Susan Milhouser, organist of the United Presbyterian church here, died suddenly at her instrument while playing at a special Memorial Day service.

Where They Belonged.

"You can't always break the speed limit with impunity," declared a magisterial expert. "A halt has to be called somewhere. St. Peter was standing by the gate when a ninety horsepower car came up with the speed of a comet and halted in a cloud of dust with such suddenness that the good guardian was greatly startled. He held up his hand and waved the party away. "Boys," said he, "if you want to scorch you'll have to go down below."

TAYLOR FLAYED JONES.

And Then, to Get Square, the Revivalist Told a Story.

Here is a well authenticated story of Sam P. Jones, revivalist and lecturer: Jones and ex-Governor Bob Taylor, now a United States senator from Tennessee, seldom met professionally in public. They were two such amazingly good drawing cards that few Chautauqua managements ever felt able to afford both of them in one day. However, one management made the plunge, and the two witty southerners found themselves on the same platform.

Taylor introduced Jones. He flayed Jones unmercifully, leaving little cackle on him. The crowd laughed heartily and waited for Jones to take his revenge.

Jones arose. He was always cool as ice. This time was no exception. The audience held its collective breath. The scathing was about to begin.

Jones, however, said nothing to indicate that he had even heard what Taylor had said. The crowd felt that at last Jones was overmatched. He delivered his lecture and made the usual hit. Yet there was much surprise that he had not replied to Taylor.

Just as Jones finished his set talk he turned and looked at Taylor. Then he drew out, with a jerk of his thumb toward Taylor:

"Whenever I see that man anywhere I'm reminded of a little dawg I used to know down in Gawgy. That dawg lived close to the railroad track, and every evening when the fast express train went shooting through that little dawg ran out and tried to cut that train. Every night he would seem to say: 'Last night I didn't get it, but I've figured out since why it was. I'll get it this time, I'm just so hungry for an express train!' Everybody around there knew that dawg would be killed some time by that train. Bound to. Couldn't help it.

"One hot summer evening that train came along faster than ever. It was just one big, noisy cloud of dust. That little dawg ran out as usual and ran along by the tracks. He was sucked in by the draft from the train and disappeared under the trucks. Everybody said: 'Then he went—flew—dawg! We always knew he'd get it. Now he's killed, all right!'

"But when that train had gone then came that little dawg trotting back up the track. The train hadn't killed him at all—only made a b-staller of him."

Presently the audience began to see the joke in sections, and before long it was in a scream of laughter.—Strickland W. Gillilan in Chicago News.

He Got Even.

Justus Miles Forman once in writing a story for Harper's Magazine used the name of an artist friend for the character of a chap who fell in love with a peasant girl in the Milanese. "It made all his friends roar with glee," said Mr. Forman. "But he got even with me by making a large twenty-four sheet poster for a musical comedy. There was a lady, the star, stepping out of a stage door and a long line of Johannes waiting for her with silly snorks and bunches of violets. And every Johannes was a portrait of me."

A Witty Retort.

As is generally the case with people who have nothing to say worth hearing, a conceited drummer talked a great deal, to the evident disgust of a number of his commercial friends who were dining at a country hotel. When cheese was served it was of a decided "lively" brand, much to the delight of the irrepressible. He attacked it with great gusto, remarking, "I'm like Samson—slaying them by the thousand!" "Yes," replied a quick witted diner at the end of the table, "and with the same weapon too!"

Painfully Polite.

A Washington trolley car was getting under way when two women, rushing from opposite sides of the street to greet each other, met right in the middle of the car track and in front of the car. There the two stopped and began to talk. The car stopped, too, but the women did not appear to realize that it was there. Certainly to realize that it was there. Certainly to realize that it was there.

STOPPED AND BEGAN TO TALK.

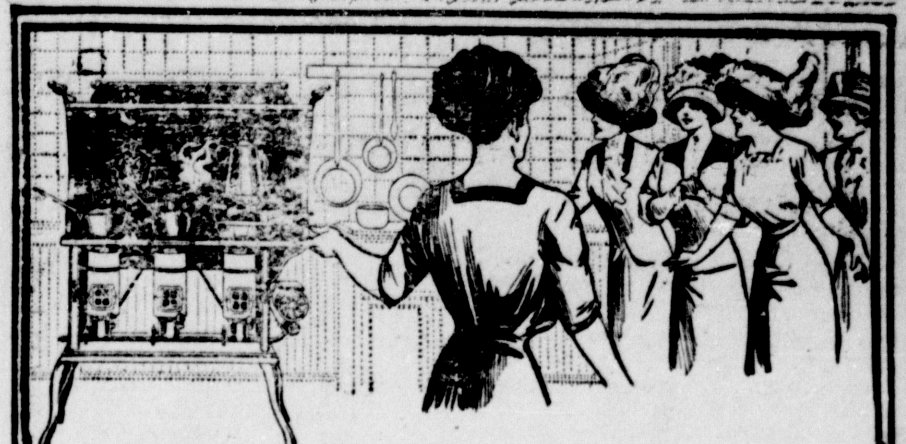

tain of the passengers, whose heads were immediately thrust out of the windows to ascertain what the trouble was, began to make sarcastic remarks, but the two women heeded them not. Finally the motorman showed that he had a saving sense of humor. Leaning over the dashboard, he inquired in the gentlest of tones:

"Pardon me, ladies, but shall I get you a couple of chairs?"—Lippincott's.

A Jolt For Whistler.

When Whistler, the famous artist, dropped into an English country inn the landlord became very much interested in him. He felt that he had "a somebody" in his house. Whistler noted his host's concerned interest. "And who do you suppose I am?" he asked at length.

"Well, I can't exactly say, sir," was the reply, "but I should fancy you was from the music 'alls!"

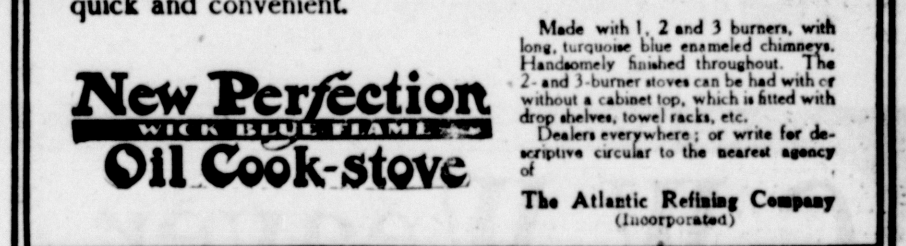

"The Best in the World"

As the bride led her friends into her cool, spotless kitchen, they broke into a chorus of approval.

"Well, I am proud of it," she said, "and proudest of all my stove. It's a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove, and I think they are the best in the world. They toast, roast, broil and bake, equally well—really to perfection—and the kitchen stays much cooler and cleaner than with any other range. This stove cuts my kitchen work almost in half."

There is no wood or coal to carry for a New Perfection; no ashes to clean up. It is ready for use as soon as lit; out at a touch of the fingers—economical as well as quick and convenient.

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2 and 3 burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc. Dealers everywhere; or write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of

A Dead Stomach Of What Use is it to Anyone?

Thousands! yes hundreds of thousands of people throughout America are suffering from a dead stomach, the best friend they have, and in their sublime ignorance they think they are putting aside the laws of nature.

This is a sensational statement; it is a startling fact, the truth of which any honorable physician will not deny.

These thousands of people are swallowing daily huge quantities of poison and other strong digesters, made especially to digest the food in the stomach without any aid at all from the digestive membrane of the stomach.

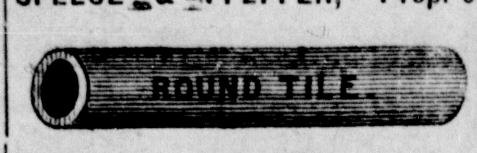

In other words, they are taking from the stomach the work that nature intended it should do, and are also refusing it the only chance for exercise it has. Millions of stomachs are relieved of distress in five minutes. Taken regularly for a few weeks they build up the stomach and make it strong enough to digest its own food. Then indigestion, belching, sour stomach, headache and stomach misery go.

M-I-O-N-A stomach tablets are sold by People's Drug Store and leading druggists everywhere at 50 cents a large box, and are guaranteed to cure all stomach distress or money back.

Over the Water

Story of a Wedding on St. Patrick's Day

By F. A. MITCHEL

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

There is a small island called Tory, on the coast of Ireland, about which hangs many a picturesque legend. The islanders are all fishermen. In olden times Tory was a lonely place and a hard place to get to and from. No priest lived there. The islanders were all good Catholics, and not to have a priest handy to baptize them, to marry them and to shrive them subjected them to constant trials.

The only sacred thing they had was the "nun's grave." Long ago during a storm the body of a nun was washed up on the island. That was the first time the people there saw a nun's habit. The leathern girdle and beads made them think that there was something sacred about the body. They prayed to be instructed what to do with it, and a voice told them that it was the body of a holy nun and they must bury it where they had found it. They did so, and to this day not a boat ever puts out to fish without a handful of earth from the "nun's grave" to preserve the fishermen from drowning.

Many years ago there lived on Tory island a young fisherman named Fergus Tyrone and a fisher lass named Eileen O'Connor. They were a simple couple, growing up in a small compass and loving each other with that fervor which is to be found in those who live lives close to nature. They were of the same age, having both been born on St. Patrick's day. Fergus, though but twenty years of age at the time the incident I am about to narrate took place, was a hardy young fellow and, however stormy the weather, never feared to go out to fish in his boat when any other craft was on the water. But Eileen did not fear for him, because she would never let him go without first taking a handful of earth and, after praying the holy nun to protect him, depositing it in the stern of his boat.

This simple couple wished to be married on their twentieth birthday, which was St. Patrick's day, of course, and Fergus had induced a priest from the mainland to agree to come over on that day and marry them. Fergus was to row over in his boat early in the morning of the wedding day, take the priest to the island and bring him back after the ceremony had been performed.

Several days before St. Patrick's day the lovers began to watch the sky for indications of what the weather would be. They feared it might be stormy and the priest would not come over, and if they could not be married on that St. Patrick's day Eileen, whose heart was set on celebrating their birthday, their wedding day and St. Patrick's day together, was resolved that they must wait till the next anniversary, which would be a year.

So as the days grew less before the appointed wedding day they watched every weather sign in the heavens and prayed constantly for smooth waters that there might be no trouble in bringing the priest over to marry them. But, whether, as Fergus believed, he had omitted some penance that he should have done or, as Eileen believed, she had not prayed often enough, on the evening of the 16th of March a dark cloud appeared in the west and a wind began to rise.

In the morning, though the water was quite rough, Fergus said he would go over and see if the father would come with him. So, while he went for the oars, Eileen brought some earth from the "nun's grave," dropped it in the boat with a prayer, and Fergus, returning, started for the mainland.

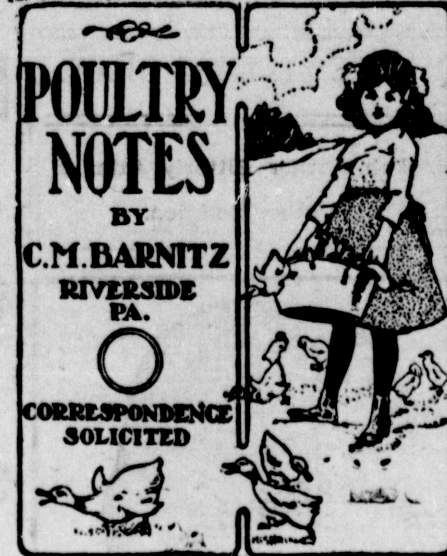

He found the good father resolved not to go with him. He might be obliged to remain a long while on the island, and what would his flock do in the meanwhile without him?

"But I'll marry you all the same, Fergus, my boy," he said. "Go back to Eileen, and when it is noon, come down to the shore. I will go out on to the Hornhead and read the service."

"But how shall we know what you are saying?" asked Fergus. Then the priest told him that when the service was begun a fire would be lighted. At another part another fire would be lighted, and so on till a given number of fires denoted that the service was finished and the couple had been pronounced man and wife.

Fergus, overjoyed, started back for the island. The wind had risen, and Eileen, who stood watching on the shore, feared that every wave would overturn the boat. When it came near enough for her to see that the priest was not in it her heart misgave her, but even before Fergus had made fast he told her of how they were to be married after all.

Shortly before the noon hour a wedding party stood on the shore of Tory island watching for a fire on Hornhead, a projecting point of rock on the mainland. When they saw a flame burst forth they uncovered and knelt and watched eagerly for the next fire, which was to mark a new part of the service. It was an impressive sight, this bridal party kneeling on the beach upon which wave after wave rolled in, as though to crown the bride with a veil composed of their own spray. Between them and the priest on the Hornhead the whitecaps came rolling toward the bride as if to offer themselves as an adornment for her bridal dress. Fire after fire appeared, each denoting that a new part of the service had been reached. Till at last one far brighter than all the rest was lighted, and a sound of wedding bells came over the water.

PROPER GARNERING OF GRAIN.

"Do you remember granddad's mouse pantry?"

"Mouse pantry?"

"Yes, that spook hole at the end of the mow where he stored the grain and mice gnawed into the bins and helped themselves and rats from the horse stables made frequent forages." But saving at the spigot and waste at the bungbole have stopped on most farms. The modern farmer doesn't raise wheat for mice to eat. He realizes that grain is gold and has done away with the old style mouse, rat and weevil incubator and is building the granary vermin proof separate from other buildings, away from rodent breeding places and the danger of barn fires.

He screens barn ventilators to keep out the thieving sparrows and lousy swallows and has shut Biddy out of the barn floor that she may not stuff herself fat in the grain mow and lay those haymow eggs that often lie in the heat and don't smell sweet. On many farms the corner has been divorced from the wagon shed, and standing solitary on three foot high concrete piers and covered with fine screen it bids defiance to sparrows and four legged thieves.

Must the poultryman mind his p's and q's on the grain question? Well, rather!

To make a large or small flock pay feed must be safely stored away and handled and fed without loss.

The granary must be vermin proof, dry to prevent mold and should not be attached to the poultry house lest an outbreak of contagious disease contaminate the feed.

Bins should be metal lined and closed tight, and a slate should hang above them so that corncrib may be kept of feed on hand.

Metal cans, tight barrels, boxes and casks may be used for small quantities and paraffin smeared on wooden receptacles make them obnoxious to rodents.

The first cut shows our grain house eighteen foot square. The brick wall and concrete floor are rat proof; the lower floor is used for grinding and the upper for storing grain. The second cut shows a wire screen corner crib built right against a barn, and its owner declares he has never seen a mouse in it.

DON'TS.

Don't hatch more chicks than you can house, feed and tend well. The man who cares for all details very, very seldom fails.

Don't get weary in well doing the right thing. If weary keep cheery. Some day you'll reach the golden goal and find rest for your weary soul.

Don't forget that ten lice breed 1,250, 100 crawlers every ninety days. Biddy won't sit nice on lice.

Don't be dirty. Human hogs are quickly ostracized in business and so, clety, are abhorrent to men and to the Almighty.

RUN DOWN CONDITIONS

Their Cause and Effect.

Run-down conditions are caused by a lack of iron in the blood and mal-assimilation of food. If you are one of the unfortunates who have drifted into this state, change your diet, eat foods that are rich in mineral elements of nutrition, and take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil), which supplies iron to the blood in the most easily assimilated form.

A case is reported from Mattoon, Ill.—Mrs. O. M. Watrous was in very poor health for years. She was weak, all run-down, no appetite, and only weighed ninety seven pounds. She had doctored for a long time without benefit. Vinol was recommended. She tried it, and in less than a year she was in perfect health and weighed 127 pounds.

Vinol creates an appetite, re-establishes perfect digestion and makes good true blood. In this natural manner it builds up the run-down weak and debilitated, and replaces weakness with strength.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. People's Drug Store, C. Wm. Beales, proprietor, Gettysburg, Pa.
